

LANGAGE DE FEMMES (Voices of Women) unites women from all walks of life, faiths, and ethnicities. It will march in Paris and New York on January 5, 2020 in the fight against antisemitism.

27 March 2017, Place de la Nation, Paris, France
Langage de femmes at a huge demonstration in Paris against antisemitism, following the murder of Mrs. Mireille Knoll, a Jewish Holocaust survivor. From left to right, Samia Essabaa, president, Aude de Thuin, honorary chair, Suzanne Nakache, vice-president, and Anne-Marie Revcolevschi, honorary chair.

ENOUGH!

Whether in France or the U.S., antisemitism is a noxious poison which leaves no society unscathed.

We, FRENCH WOMEN – MUSLIM, CHRISTIAN, AND JEWISH –, are united to combat antisemitism and to stand up here with you today in New York for peace and fraternity and against antisemitism and all forms of hate.

May our voices be heard to break the walls of ignorance and prejudice.

We welcome all women in the United States to join us, LANGAGE DE FEMMES.

With courage, education, and faith in our common human values, together, we will prevail!

19 February 2019, Place de la République, Paris, France
Langage de femmes at a huge demonstration in Paris against antisemitism
From left to right, Samia Essabaa, Anne-Marie Revcolevschi, Suzanne Nakache

Click here to read about Langage de femmes:

NPR, To Counter Anti-Semitism, French Women Find Strength In Diversity At Auschwitz Feb. 2019

Christian Science Monitor, Why French Jews, Muslims are learning each other's language, Dec. 2019

CONTACT:

New York: Harriet Jackson, Tel 646-824-0776, harriet770@gmail.com

Paris: Suzanne Nakache, Tel 011-33-6-07-60-48-92, Suzanne.nakache@gmail.com